Jobless Benefit Measure Killed By Ohio House

DiSalle's Plea For Enactment Ignored by GOP

Democrats Fall Two Votes Short of Passing Legislation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Majority Democrats in the Ohio legislature called quits to a special session Tuesday night after failing to enact an unemployment compensation extension asked by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Democrats fought to the last ditch—first attempting to get the DiSalle bill passed as an emergency measure which would have made it effective immediately, and later to get it passed as a regular bill effective in 90 days.

Both efforts failed. Democrats fell only two votes short of passing the bill as a regular, non-emergency measure.

Accomplished Nothing

Just four years ago—right about now—former Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche called a special session which accomplished absolutely nothing. Lausche, then, was seeking a law to end a protracted telephone strike in southern and eastern Ohio. His bill died in the House without a single favorable vote.

But this year's special session did accomplish something: DiSalle got confirmation for 116 of 117 of his recess appointments to top state positions. The only appointee who wasn't confirmed by the Senate was Harry M. Hoffheimer of Cincinnati, chairman of the Racing Commission. He wasn't defeated. His name simply never came before the Senate. DiSalle will be forced to make a new selection.

The confirmations of DiSalle appointees came without any great

10 Named to Charter Unit File Expenses

Only 10 of the 15 members named to a Salem charter commission at the Nov. 8 general election have qualified to begin their official duties by filing sworn statements of campaign expenses and obtaining certificates of election from the County Election Board in East Liverpool.

The unsalaried commission was named from a field of 26 candidates listed on the same ballot on which local voters approved the question: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

Under state law, the commission must frame a proposed charter under which the Salem municipal government would operate and put it to a vote of the people within a year.

The commission has the authority to call an election for submission of the question. Voters then will decide whether to adopt the charter to govern their city's operations or allow it to continue to function under the provisions of the Ohio Revised Code, as most cities in the state do.

State law fixes no specific limit to the terms on the charter commission, but since it says the group must draft a charter and put it to a vote within a year the law is construed to limit the terms to one year.

The charter commission candidates and all others who sought office at the general election have until Dec. 23 at 4 p. m. to file expense statements with the Election Board. The Board cannot issue a certificate of election until it receives the expense report. Law

Brother of Soviet Spy Soble Nabbed

NEW YORK (AP)—A New York psychiatrist arrested as a 20-year Soviet spy never tried to escape his shadow during a long, "hot surveillance" by FBI agents, says his attorney.

On the contrary, the doctor even stopped his car so that trailing agents could catch up with him, the lawyer said.

The psychiatrist, Dr. Robert Soble, 60, was held in $75,000 bail for a federal court hearing Dec. 20. Soble, whose legal name is Soblen, is a brother of confessed Soviet spy Jack Soble, 57, serving a seven-year prison term for espionage.

Involved In Espionage

The government charged that the brothers were involved in separate espionage rings that sought national defense secrets for transmission to the Soviet Union. Both brothers were naturalized in 1947.

Dr. Soble, if convicted, could receive the death penalty. The doctor suffers from a serious illness, his attorney said.

Soble was arrested at noon Tuesday at Rockland State Hospital, in suburban Orangeburg, where he has served as supervising psychiatrist.

The indictment by a federal grand jury also named 18 co-conspirators, none of whom are defendants. They include several Soviet officials and four Americans.

It took the government three years to collect evidence for an indictment against Dr. Soble.

Made Friends Among FBI

Apparently, Soble made friends among FBI agents who arrested him. He asked Judge William B. Herlands if he could say goodbye to "the FBI gentlemen."

Herlands smiled and gave his permission. The doctor bowed from the waist and waved to the FBI agents. "Thank you very much, gentlemen," he said.

The government said the Soble brothers were born in Lithuania and during the 1930s roamed Europe as Communist agents for the Soviet secret police.

The indictment charged that in 1940 Jack Soble met the late Lavrenti P. Beria, head of the Soviet secret police under Stalin. In exchange for permitting nearly all the families of both brothers to go to the United States, the brothers agreed to act as spies here.

Sent Data To Russia

The indictment said that Dr. Soble received monthly reports during World War II—from local headquarters in Rockefeller Plaza of the super-secret Office of Strategic Services. Documents, writings and photographs and notes

Mothers March on Polio Planned Here

Salem will hold a mothers march on polio for the first time in recent history as part of its annual March of Dimes campaign in January, leaders decided Tuesday night after a meeting with officials of the East Liverpool campaign.

At the meeting in the Salem YWCA, Dr. Harley Thayer represented officials of the Salem drive. He is northern county chairman for the campaign.

Also attending were Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, southern county chairman; Mrs. James Crook, Mrs. Thomas Snow and Mrs. David Anderson, who helped stage the East Liverpool mothers' march in the past; Nelson Wright, East Liverpool chairman for the polio drive, and E. Allan McKee, chairman of the National Foundation, formerly known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The mothers march is a door to door canvass for funds, staged by teams of women volunteers.

Lisbon and Leetonia also were represented at the meeting last night. The polio drive will be held throughout January.

Youngstown, Canton Rates Up, FBI Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Murder has been on the rise in Canton, Cleveland, Toledo and Youngstown. It has declined in Cincinnati, Columbus and Dayton.

In Akron, the murder rate has been running at about the same pace as last year.

These conclusions are contained in the latest crime report submitted by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Attorney General William P. Rogers.

The report shows total offenses known to police in cities of population to more than 100,000 for the first nine months of 1959 and for the same period this year.

11 Per Cent Higher

Nationally, the FBI said, serious crime is 11 per cent higher for the first nine months of 1960 than in the first nine months of 1959.

Council Defers Zoning Change After Hearing

Salem City Council at a public hearing Tuesday night heard pro and con arguments on a proposal to re-zone an area on E. Pershing St. from S. Madison Ave. to the city limits from single family residential to multiple family residential.

Council deferred action on the matter pending further study.

16 Children Die as Bus, Train Collide

LAMONT, Alta. (AP)—"I heard a bang and the next thing I knew I was sitting in a ditch."

Thus Keith Tompkins, 12, described the moment when 16 of his high school classmates were killed Tuesday as a Canadian National Railway freight train slammed into their school bus.

Only one of the 42 persons aboard the bus was uninjured. Twenty-five were injured, 10 seriously.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour, railroad officials said, when it struck the bus at a crossing a quarter-mile outside this central Alberta town.

The braking train pushed the wreckage ahead of it into town, scattering some of the victims along the snow-covered tracks in subzero temperatures.

Keith's brothers, Tom, 13, and Robert, 15 were in the rear of the bus when the train struck it squarely in the middle.

"I found Tom in the wreckage," Keith said. "He didn't know how to get out, looking a little dazed."

where he was. Robert was walking. Rescuers needed a tractor and acetylene torches to release some of the injured.

Citizens near the crash scene said the driver, Frank Butney, 27, one of the survivors, may have been blinded by the sun as he drove up the inclined approach to the crossing.

Jimmy Winnick, the only student to escape injury, told reporters he did not remember the bus stopping.

Ship Aground In Lake Michigan

Gale, Waves Prevent Assistance to Vessel

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—A Liberian freighter lay grounded helplessly on a Lake Michigan island today, battered by gale wind and waves which kept Coast Guard cutters from offering immediate assistance.

The Francisco Morazan ran aground off the shore of South Manitou Island during a gale Tuesday night. At that time the captain, Eduardo Trizavis, told the Coast Guard there were 15 men and a woman aboard. Later, he told a reporter on ship-to-shore telephone there were only 14 persons aboard.

Trizavis said "there is leakage in the double bottom" when asked whether the ship was damaged but added that he thought there was no danger of sinking.

The captain of the 246-foot, 2,000-ton ocean-going freighter blamed the mishap on a snow storm which cut visibility to zero and high winds. He said the two combined to drift him onto the rocks.

The Coast Guard cutter Mesquite set out from Surgeon Bay, Wis., to assist the stricken freighter. She arrived in the area early today but decided to lay over nearby until there was more visibility. Her officers said they considered the Morazan in no immediate danger.

Two other cutters were dispatched to the scene by the Coast Guard, the Mackinaw, out of Cheboygan, Mich., and the Sundew, out of Charlevoix, Mich.

Commander W. E. Chapline of the Coast Guard Air Station at Traverse City said the vessel was aground some 300 to 500 feet off the island's southwest corner, lying almost parallel to the shoreline in 14 feet of water. He said she was pounding slightly.

South Manitou Island is about eight miles northwest of Glen Haven, Mich., off the shore of the Leelanau Peninsula in northwestern Lower Michigan.

Winter's Preview Brings Snow Squalls

Winter, although not officially here until Dec. 21, staged a preview Tuesday night when snow squalls whipped the Salem district.

Snow flurries were to continue this afternoon and tonight, according to the Ohio Weather Bureau.

Snowfall here was not measurable but in the vicinity of Lake Erie from five to 10 inches were reported.

A low reading of 12 degrees above zero was recorded here last night, according to records kept at the city sewage treatment plant. It was to be continued cold tonight, with diminishing winds.

Orders Injunction Against Gov. Davis, Other Officials

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A three-judge federal court today rejected the New Orleans School Board's request to suspend integration in two of the city's public schools.

The judges also rejected the State of Louisiana's request to throw out the original integration order by U.S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright on grounds the court lacked jurisdiction.

Judge Wright sat on the special panel with Chief Judge Richard T. Rives of the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and U.S. District Judge Herbert W. Christenberry.

Asked Integration Suspension The school board has asked that integration, which started Nov. 14, be suspended pending the settlement of state-federal legal issues.

The state claimed, by virtue of a resolution passed by a special session of the legislature earlier this month, that it did not accept the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that segregated schools were unconstitutional.

The rulings were unanimous. The court also ordered a temporary injunction against Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, a number of state officials and the legislature from interfering with the operation of New Orleans public schools by the Orleans Parish School Board.

A temporary restraining order has previously been issued.

The decisions were contained in a 17-page opinion devoted mainly to a discussion of interposition, by

IBOP, USPA Face Midnight Strike Deadline

CLEVELAND (AP)—Negotiators met today facing a midnight deadline for a strike that would affect about 4,900 employees in nine plants manufacturing dinnerware.

Midnight tonight is when the current two-year contract between the U.S. Pottery Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will expire. The union has served notice it will follow a "no contract, no work" policy.

Bargaining began in New York City Oct. 3 and later resumed in Cleveland but recessed Nov. 4 until last week. At the start of talks the association had proposed putting wages back to the 1957 level. Current average hourly wage rate is $2.25 for men and $1.79 for women workers.

Night sessions were held by the negotiators both Monday and Tuesday. No word on progress was forthcoming from either side in the bargaining or from a federal mediator who is assisting.

Last Saturday the pottery workers union reached an agreement on a two-year contract with a group of six chinaware firms employing about 1,800 in Wellsville and Bedford, Ohio; Falls Creek and Beaver Falls, Pa.; and Buffalo, N.Y.

That agreement provided for no immediate wage increase but a 3-cent hourly boost in December 1961, and a $9.67 monthly contribution to the health and welfare program. Other fringe improvements included a 1½-cent payment into a pension fund for each dozen dinnerware shipped after Jan. 1 and the addition of Thanksgiving as a sixth paid holiday.

White House Commission Sets Goals

U.S. Economic Growth Pushed

By STERLING F. GREEN

Editor's Note—A lengthy study by a presidential commission has set up a number of recommendations for national goals. These and other proposals almost certainly will be debated sharply in the months ahead as a new Democratic administration takes over. The commission's domestic goals are discussed in this first of a series of three articles by Sterling F. Green, veteran AP writer on economic affairs. Subsequent articles will deal with foreign affairs and with costs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several hundred goals for the 1960s were set before Americans this week by a White House commission. Yet one simple, overriding, all-essential word told the story—growth.

Growth to provide at least 13.5 million new jobs, growth to avoid higher taxes, growth to support new multimillion-dollar outlays for research and education, growth to rebuild decayed downtowns, growth to arm more strongly against "grave danger."

Objectives will be Lost

Without economic growth, at a rate apparently not less than one-sixth faster than American production has increased over the past 30 years, the commission says some of the nation's vital objectives will be lost, its security and leadership endangered. In such a case, said the President's Commission on National Goals, Americans are going to have to sacrifice—perhaps by tax increases, loss of leisure time, a slower rise of living standards, and unaccustomed controls.

The commission said it this way: "If the growth rate is lower, it will impel consideration of higher taxes, increased quantity of labor and the greater individual effort and sacrifice exemplified by forced savings and reduced consumption."

This was the essence of the report filed with President Eisenhower by 11 distinguished Americans after 10 months of study. The White House released it Sunday.

Dealt with Many Matters

On the home front, the commission dealt with many matters not tied directly to economic policy—breaking down racial and religious bias, reducing juvenile delinquency, and reorganizing the government, to name a few.

But the central theme was that the United States must make a greater investment—of both private and public money—in its own future, or it will risk the loss both of world leadership and its own cherished freedoms.

The growth goal was stated mainly in terms of jobs. The target, said the commission, should be the fastest possible rate which is "consistent with primary dependence upon free enterprise and the avoidance of marked inflation."

What will that rate be? The commission was uncertain. One careful study, it said, suggests that the total output of goods and services can be boosted by 3.4 per cent a year—if unemployment is held consistently below 4 per cent and if a climate favorable to investment and research is maintained.

5 Per Cent Growth

Yet equally careful studies indicate that a 5 per cent growth can be achieved "without extraordinary stimulating measures," said the report.

The average increase in gross national product recorded since 1939 has been 2.9 per cent.

The commission's proposals for insuring growth included many that will be cited in Congress next session when the hot issues of recent years are rekindled. They include federal aid to education, aid to depressed areas, medical care for the aged, tax revision, and civil rights.

Here are some of the specific targets:

EDUCATION—Yearly U. S. outlays must be doubled by 1970, to $40 billion. "The federal role must now be expanded."

The commission hewed to the line that education is "primarily a responsibility of the states" and shied away from an outright endorsement of federal aid for school construction. But it said that since 1787 the federal government has participated in the support of education "without destroying local initiative and responsibility."

Tax System Overhaul

TAXES—An "overhaul of the tax system" is necessary, whether tax rates go up or down, to improve the climate for new business investment. The changes, said the commission, should include more liberal depreciation deductions on business and industrial equipment to encourage modernization and investment.

AUTOMATION—Technological change should be encouraged but with careful advance planning to avoid hardship to those displaced by new machines and processes.

Where whole areas are left in distress, both state and federal governments should help provide loans and grants to assist the communities in attracting new industries and in retraining and relocating workers.

AGRICULTURE—Supply and demand must be brought into balance so that the market—instead, presumably, of federal subsidies—will provide farmers a fair return.

Retirement of Farm Land

There should be "much in increased retirement of farm land, with emphasis on whole farms." But federal farm programs, including price supports, will be necessary for some time to come.

CITIES—Slum conditions must be remedied and the process of decay in big cities arrested, the commission said. It called for more urban renewal programs "costing as much as $4 billion a year."

HEALTH—Among a dozen recommendations in this field, the commission called for further efforts to reduce the burden of the cost of medical care.

"Extension of medical insurance is necessary, through both public and private agencies," it said.

Alessio Kidnapers Were Bunglers, Police Declare

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Kidnapers of rich sportsman Anthony Alessio were bunglers who "left trails a mile wide," a police official says.

Five suspects have been arrested. Federal agents believe one or two more members of the gang may still be at large. About $83,000 of the $200,000 ransom paid for Alessio's release has been recovered.

Alessio, one of seven brothers prominent in Southern California business circles, was kidnaped in San Diego at gunpoint by two men on Nov. 22, released unharmed more than 24 hours later after the ransom was paid. The initial arrests were made soon afterward.

Three persons were arraigned here Tuesday on a state charge of kidnaping, which is punishable on conviction by life imprisonment with possible parole after 7½ years because the victim was unharmed. Arraigned were James Robert Gorman, 29, escaped convict; his wife, Ruby, 30, and Selma Marrone, 25. Each was held in lieu of $210,000 bail.

Two others were arrested Tuesday. They are Richard Lee Hoffman, 24, named by the FBI as one of the gunmen who abducted Alessio from his driveway, and Frank Marrone, 31, a convicted Alaska murderer awaiting appeal.

Newsman Get First Look at Secret NASA Tracking Device

SAN NICOLAS ISLAND, Calif. (AP)—On this barren, gullied clod of earth 55 miles off the California coast man has cupped a giant ear to the heavens.

Today this ear, a dish-shaped antenna 60 feet in diameter, is listening to a satellite 400 miles high which photographs the world's weather and measures the heat the earth receives from the sun.

Sometime next year it will begin listening to another kind of satellite—one with a man in it. This antenna and others in the network around the globe will keep ground scientists informed around the clock when America's astronauts venture into orbit.

Newsman got their first look at this new and heretofore secret tracking facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Tuesday as the robot weather man, Tiros II, made its 92nd circuit of the globe.

At the sound of an alarm an operator seated himself at a console of flashing lights and dials with nervous needles. Centered on satellites have been launched weathermen will know what's brewing upstairs all around the world. This will mean safer travel, quicker storm warnings and better odds that you need never be caught in the rain without a slicker. The argali is the largest wild sheep. It is found in the Altai Mountains of Siberia and Mongolia.

Is Normalcy Forever Upward?

Economic writer Sylvia Porter has taken the initiative in pointing ahead to a pull-out early next year from a recession that will not become appreciably worse than it is now.

She thinks the 1960 recession may go down in history as "among the gentlest, shallowest of modern times." And one of the reasons for this, she believes, is that consumers have not been panicked.

This is not the only reason and probably not the main reason, as Miss Porter sees it. But as those of us who do not profess to be able to delve into economics and pull out right answers think of it, this is an extremely important reason.

If Americans as a whole had been in a mood to yield to economic panic, the things being said by the candidates of the party out of power before Election Day would have pushed the country over the brink.

If panic had been the prevailing mood before Election Day, they wouldn't still be counting votes; there would be no room for doubt about Sen. Kennedy's election. It would have been another 1932. Vice President Nixon and the Republicans would have been loaded with blame for everything objectionable about economic conditions and driven into the wilderness, the way Herbert Hoover was made the scapegoat 28 years ago.

IT SEEMS LIKELY the American people are not as susceptible as they once were to the shrill cry of economic panic. They dislike joblessness and shutdowns, but they are not as gullible as they used to be about the spiel of the political blackmailers who blame everything on the man in the White House. They don't think the explanation is that easy.

Farmers surprised everybody this year by not voting against Secretary of Agriculture

Benson, who was believed to be a political liability because farmers were assumed to be in a mood to blackmail the Eisenhower administration over their grievances.

There also is evidence in the less-than-expected size of big-city totals that something went awry among industrial workers who had been primed to blast the union despised Republicans. They failed to show the deep rancor they had been encouraged to show by their leaders, who tried to make it appear that the country had gone into a tailspin.

EVERYBODY would like to think there could be continuous high employment. With overtime at premium rates, a seller's market, annual rounds of wage inflation, bonuses for one and all and "Employees Wanted" signs on every factory gate.

But not everybody can convince himself that a boom represents normalcy and that anything short of a boom constitutes economic disaster.

The numerous steps that have been taken in the direction of economic stability have brought results.

A large part of the public is protected from the immediate impact of economic slowdown.

The economic line never can be perfectly straight. It always will fluctuate. But it has not shown in recent recessions the wild ups and downs once associated with the boom-and-bust pattern.

That may explain why Sylvia Porter can delve into the mysteries in 1960 and come up with the bright conclusion that one of the reasons there will be no economic collapse is because most Americans are refusing to act and talk as if they thought a collapse was imminent.

Absolutists Disagree Absolutely

Rumors of disagreement among Communists who have been holed up in Moscow for an international powwow must be taken seriously.

The non-Communist world is held spellbound by fear of Communist efficiency in carrying out its plan of destruction.

There is seemingly no way for free and therefore independent nations to counter the Communist Conspiracy's international plotting—its ability to strike at will and keep its victims guessing.

The idea has spread throughout the world that dictatorship must be more efficient than democracy because it can get things done without bickering and compromising.

Richberg and the Eagle

With due respect to the good intentions and great skill of men like Donald R. Richberg, who has died at the age of 79, their services in the early years of the Roosevelt administration proved that Washington was not smart enough to run business.

That was the theory behind the National Recovery Administration, which Donald Richberg once headed that the way out of the depression was to put control of business in the hands of central government. This otherwise bitter pill was sugar-coated with NRA codes, presumably approved by business for the benefit of business.

If the codes had worked as intended, they would have been fascism. The way they did work, they were political meddling in private affairs. The U.S. Supreme Court ruled they were unconstitutional, and men like Donald Richberg, who had tried to make sense of them, found better things to do with their devotion to America.

Those were exciting times. Surprises were as common as red ants in August. All kinds of things that never had been tried were proposed, and many were adopted. Men who never had been heard of before popped into the limelight and briefly exercised the power of despots. Some were graceful enough to behave like free men while they were doing it; Donald Richberg was one of the graceful ones. In fact, he recanted and became one of the sternest critics of government meddling.

Once Over

Our public affairs scout has been testing out citizen awareness with following results:

Q. What do you think of the new ruble?

A. It's as good as those other compacts with the motor in rear.

Q. It's not a car; it's Russian money. Haven't you heard?

A. No. I don't use any even as subway slugs.

Q. Are you disturbed by the shortage of gold reserves?

A. Not much. I can't even reserve silver.

Q. What do you think of the U.N. going broke?

A. It should go to work like anybody else instead of getting in at 10:30 and taking three hours for lunch.

Q. How is your reaction to that last U.S. spaceship not getting off the ground?

A. I think the volunteers should cancel their seats and let the Cape Canaveral scientists and engineers take their places.

Q. What do you think of naming a Polaris after Ethan Allen?

A. I don't see why they should name it after a man just because he lives in Gettysburg near Ike and shoots quail with him.

Q. Any comment on West Germany refusing to help pay the upkeep of U.S. troops in Berlin?

A. It's pretty late for any European nation to discover there ain't no Santa Claus.

Q. Did you notice Kasavubu beat Lumumba?

Americans, especially, take the attitude they must apologize for the way they must wash their linen in public, put on family fights with the windows open and split differences between factions. If they could issue edicts, instead of appeals, Americans reason, they could get more things done.

THIS IS WHY rumors of disagreement among Communists should not be shrugged off. Disagreement is the Achilles heel of Communist absolutism.

It is the Achilles heel of absolutism, itself. What's absolutism? It is the doctrine of unconditional power—the doctrine that a handful of politicians have the absolute right to decree everything from death to doctrine.

It is only natural that people who believe in absolutism believe in it absolutely. This is its fatal weakness.

Whenever absolutists disagree, they must, perforce, disagree absolutely. There can be no middle ground. One faction or the other must triumph.

There can be no compromise, no splitting of differences. As long as there is a single possibility of dissent, no absolutist can be safe in his job or even his life.

Opposition must be destroyed—absolutely. Disputes over doctrine must be settled—absolutely. No one can forgive, no one can forget. All conflicts are irreconcilable. All battles must be to the death. All surrender must be unconditional.

IF THERE ARE differences between the Russian Communists and Communists headed up by the Chinese leaders, one side must dominate or be destroyed.

There can be no flexibility, no accommodation, no live-and-let-live, no give and take.

There must be triumph and humiliation, life and death, everything or nothing.

This is the vaunted efficiency of absolutism. It is, in fact, the most inefficient of all political systems, because eventually its strength is used up in factional deadlocks. The deadlocks couldn't happen to a more deserving gang of tyrants than the absolutists of the Communist Conspiracy.

May they destroy one another—absolutely—in a Communist "holy war."

Q. Have you heard that Kelso won the election as horse of the year?

A. The absentee votes may upset it.

U.S. SENATE committee resumes probe into mobsters in boxing Dec. 5. Here's hoping it isn't prolonged to the point in Christmas season where Santa and reindeers get knocked out in point of publicity.

Slot machine which changes $5 bill is being put in postoffices. The postal deficit could be lifted fast if the machine could make it possible to get two tens for a five, though a special coin slot.

Motorboats are being sold in a Ft. Lauderdale chain grocery. Wives presumably tell mates "Stop in and get a quarter pound of baloney, a half dozen eggs and a small loaf of bread and a power cruiser. We are economizing."

Thomas D. Nicholson, planetarium astronomer, says a fireside planetarium can be obtained for around $5,000 and that it beats the TV set all to hollow. It could be nice to tune in and see what the heavens have on their program. (Is the Venus show tonight better than what Mars offers? What's the Milky Way "spectacular" and is this the night we get the Big Dipper's Late show?) If you insist upon a "western" touch you can, of course, get the shooting stars.

African Rift

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —African leaders at the United Nations are deeply concerned over the rift in their 25-nation group that flared into the open on two fronts last week.

It was a week that saw neighbor nations from the Dark Continent denounce each other as lackeys in the Congo debate and swap charges of imperialism during the discussion of Mauritania's independence.

When 16 new African states joined the U.N. family this fall bringing the bloc's voting strength to 25, diplomats looked on it as a formidable force. Both the Soviet Union and the West began making overtures to win support from the Africans.

Last week's bitter clashes prompted predictions, however, that the Africans will be divided on most issues.

Differences between African states of varying political backgrounds are deep-seated and complex, but the current feud apparently was started by the power struggle between Joseph Kasavubu, West-supported Congo president and Patrice Lumumba, Soviet-backed ex-premier.

The dispute has been simmering for weeks in closed door meetings of the African group. It boiled over early last week when the assembly neared the vote which won Kasavubu the Congo's empty U.N. seat.

Charles Okala, outspoken foreign minister of the newly independent Cameroon, accused Ghana of working with the Soviet Union to set up a Communist regime in the Congo.

Ghana Ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey, considered by some a spokesman of the African group, countered that Okala was acting in bad taste and was guilty of unpatriotic behavior.

African delegates became embroiled in another angry exchange in the political committee debating a Moroccan protest over Mauritania's accession to independence granted by France.

Fireworks erupted when the French-speaking new nations from Africa banded together against claims that Mauritania belongs to Morocco.

The new state of Upper Volta declared Morocco was having "pipe dreams" about extending its empire.

The United Arab Republic and other Arab countries in Africa countered that the colonialists were trying to carve up Mauritania.

In the Mauritania discussion, Ismael Toure, chief of the Guinea delegation, warned colleagues that any division of the African nations "is a weapon in the hands of our foes."

There already existed a danger of outside forces pitting African against African, he asserted.

Evangelism via Coffee

Stimulation of interest in church and Christ can be gained through "coffee break evangelism," the National Methodist Lay Committee on Evangelism was told recently at Columbus, O.

Harold S. Rogers of Nashville, Tenn., director of personal evangelism for the Methodist Board of Evangelism, told the convention that:

"The average American spends perhaps 83 hours a year in coffee breaks.

"It would be a significant contribution to Christianity if Christians would use some of this discussion time to talk to their friends about Christ," he added.

Election Reform

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Method of Choosing President Criticized

Throughout the country — judging by letters received — there is a feeling of dissatisfaction over the manner in which presidents are chosen. It isn't new — something of the same kind of criticism has been heard before — but it is given added momentum because of the closeness of the recent election.

Curiously, enough, the reasons for the criticism seem to center on the Electoral College formula — the fact that a narrow majority vote within a state can give the entire electoral vote to a particular candidate.

But there is something deeper and far more important that's wrong with the present system of choosing presidents. It is that the voters at large do not familiarize themselves with the basic issues and have scant knowledge of the capacity of the candidates to discharge the duties of the high office of president.

Millions of persons on Nov. 8 last apparently voted their likes or dislikes of a certain facial expression or image on the TV. Millions of others were swayed by feelings engendered by the controversy over the religious issue.

Still others voted their dissatisfaction with economic conditions as related to their particular lives. How many really grasped the fundamental issues involved in the election of a president of the United States?

With the continuing growth of America's population, the problem of choosing a president is going to be more and more challenging.

THE QUESTION is, how can the best qualified man be selected? Can it be done by a direct vote of the people, either under the present electoral system or some modification thereof?

The nominating conventions themselves have not proved satisfactory and every four years there is repeated criticism as cliques and pressure groups actually select the nominees.

As for the national platforms adopted by the respective parties, the country is already being told by leading Democrats that these pronouncements of last summer were of no consequence.

How, then, can responsibility be fixed and a political party or a leadership be held accountable to the people? Any change, of course, would have to be made by constitutional amendment.

For many years a school of thought in this country has advocated the so-called parliamentary system which has been successful in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, as well as Great Britain.

It has not been so successful in France and some of the Latin countries. The fault there, however, is not in the system but in the failure to provide safeguards against splinter parties and factionalism.

How to Get a Fur Coat

By HAL BOYLE

YOURVILLE, U.S.A. (AP) — Trellis Mae Peeble, America's most average housewife, is getting a new fur coat for Christmas. Listen to her tale, ladies — it may show you a way to get a fur coat, too.

One evening early last week Wilbur Peeble was lying on the sofa, dressed in his pajamas and robe, and drinking a can of beer as he watched a posse on the television screen riding to head off the rustlers at Eagle Pass.

The doorman rang, Wilbur grunted, rose and opened the door.

There stood Miss Hortense Schlemp, the pretty blonde secretary who lived in the apartment overhead with her widowed mother. Hortense was clad only in a filmy pair of pajamas.

She stepped quickly into the room and asked, "Where's Trellis Mae?"

"Playing bridge with some of her biddy buddies," replied Wilbur. "But she should be back any moment. Why, what's up?"

"Well, silly me!" said Hortense. "I went out in the hall to put something in the incinerator, and the darned old door locked shut after me."

"My mother's asleep in the bedroom. I rang and rang the doorman but I can't wake her up."

"I hate to go down in the elevator—dressed like this—to borrow a key from the superintendent. I wonder if you'd mind doing it for me."

"Sure thing," said Wilbur. "Soon as I toss on a few clothes. Here, let me fix you a beer while you're waiting."

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES
5 YEARS AGO — Mrs. Irene Hahn recently visited her sister, Mrs. Blanche Irey.

10 YEARS AGO — A "Snowball" theme will be used for the parties Friday and Saturday nights at the High School gym for the Junior-senior and freshman sophomore classes.

As America's population grows in the next 50 years, probably to a height of 500 million people, the question will arise as to whether a so-called "pure democracy" or a "mobocracy" will ever choose a president from the most talented leaders available.

What is most important is that the voters shall have an opportunity to place their confidence in some leader known in their own community, as is done to a large extent under the parliamentary system.

If all the 437 members of the U.S. House of Representatives and the 100 Senators together were to elect one of their own number as president by a majority vote, there would be a better opportunity to designate the most experienced legislator and ablest executive for the highest office in the land.

He would be the party leader who, by reason of training and experience, became the logical choice for president.

Under the British parliamentary system, a majority of the Parliament selects the prime minister, who combines executive as well as legislative duties.

This avoids any setup such as America has experienced in recent years in what is known as "divided government" — when one party controls the legislature and the other is in charge of the executive branch of the government.

THE OPPOSITION party, moreover, is on notice constantly that it might any day take over leadership. Thus there is a continuous process of training for the Cabinet portfolios.

In Britain, for example, a so-called "shadow cabinet" is always chosen by the opposition party and keeps in touch with the executive department all the time, so that the reins of government can be taken over at any moment.

Unquestionably, the people of the United States would want to modify the British or Canadian parliamentary systems somewhat to conform to American traditions. It might be stipulated, for example, that no change in government should take place in less than two years after an election has taken place.

Likewise, it might be required that a two-thirds vote of one House and a majority vote of the other should be necessary to remove a president from power, or that a general election would be called only if a certain percentage vote of both Houses were recorded against the administration in power.

What America lacks today is a system that provides for continuity in government, with a trained personnel that has become familiar with the problems of government.

To choose a president by popular vote sounds, theoretically, desirable but the indirect system, whereby the people choose their members of Congress carefully and they in turn pick the president, would, in the end, provide more stability to the whole governmental process.

He got Hortense the beer, then disappeared into the bedroom. Wilbur had time only to slip into his pants and one slipper when the bell rang again.

He hobbled to the door carrying the other slipper in his hand. It was his wife, Trellis Mae.

"Well, aren't we cozy?" she said coldly.

Wilbur reddened to the ears.

"Hortense accidentally locked herself out," he said lamely. "I was just going down to get a key."

"You sure thought that one up fast, didn't you?" said his wife.

When Wilbur returned later after letting Hortense into her apartment, Trellis Mae was already in bed with her face turned to the wall.

For days she gave Wilbur the silent treatment. On Saturday, just before he was leaving for the golf course, he crumbled.

"You know that fur coat you been wanting for 15 years," he pleaded. "I'll give it to you for Christmas if you'll just tell me you believe me. Honest, there's nothing between Hortense and me."

"Okay," said Trellis Mae, majestically. "I forgive you—this time."

As soon as Wilbur left, Trellis Mae ran like a squirrel to the apartment above, where Hortense and her mother were having coffee.

"It worked!" she cried. "He's going to give me the fur coat."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When I married 17 years ago I wore a size 10. Now, after four children I can get into a size 14 if I wear a good foundation garment. True, the waist is no more, but nobody would call me fat. Nobody but my husband, that is.

Last night I indulged myself in a small piece of fudge cake. He bellowed, "Do you know you're getting as big as a house?"

I really let him have it. The big ape has gained at least 35 pounds since we married but he's blind to the roll of blubber hanging over his own belt.

He has gone from a size 15 collar to a 16 — and now that's beginning to look tight.

Why do men make their wives feel like cows just because they add a few pounds? Why don't they take a look at themselves? —SITTING AND WAITING.

Dear Sitting: You and your big ape — I mean husband — should bury the hatchet, along with the fudge cake, potatoes, bread, butter and fried foods. Ask your doctor to put you both on a sensible diet. Shedding excess pounds is essential for health's sake.

P.S.: It sounds as if there's enough competitiveness between you two so that dieting together could be fun.

Warmed-Over Line

Dear Ann: I've just turned 17 and I think I'm in love. The boy is 18 and dreamy but he keeps me in a fog as to his real feelings.

A few girls he has gone with have told me he has more lines than the telephone company. When they repeated to me some of the things he had said to them, it sounded a lot like what he has said to me.

Is it possible that he really does like me as much as he says and that the similarity in lines is just a coincidence?

I'd hate to join his collection of has-beens. Please tell me how I can find out if he's for real? —PAM.

Minister Abused for Taking Child to Integrated School

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The block and a half the Rev. Lloyd Foreman has to go with his 5-year-old daughter Pamela to integrated William Frantz school is for them the longest walk in the world.

For seven days, women have hurled abuse at Foreman as he walked past screaming crowds with his arm around his daughter.

The demonstrators made their toughest show of strength Tuesday day.

After a dozen women formed a human chain to block them and one grabbed Foreman's jacket, the 34-year-old minister said: "We'll have to re-evaluate the situation. It's never been like this before."

Police wedged a pat for Foreman and his daughter. At noon he drove to the school's rear to escape the incensed crowd.

Pamela was one of four white children who attended Frantz Tuesday with one Negro first grader.

Inside Foreman's modest one-story frame house, his young wife wept as she saw him return with yelling women demonstrators trailing him. She had received crank calls all morning.

They sat in the small living room talking it over.

"Think of what the child has to go through," Mrs. Foreman said.

Mrs. Foreman is a slender, pretty brunette, born in Alexandria, La. Her two younger children played at her feet.

"I don't think it's disturbed Pamela," Foreman said. "She wants to go to school."

Foreman, a dark-haired even-featured man who is pastor of two Methodist churches here, was born in Crowley, La.

"When Pamela started going," Foreman said, "I thought we could do this quietly. Now I don't know. I don't know what to think. Except that I'm convinced this segment is not representative of the city of New Orleans."

"My congregation has been wonderful about this," Foreman said. "They are not in accord. But they have accepted my decision as a personal one."

WILL LDEPORT STUDENT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U.S. immigration authorities have agreed to deport Neval Goel, 25, a former Ohio State University student from India whom local authorities accused of taking $27,000 worth of merchandise from a downtown store. Police charged that Goel carried away merchandise while employed as a stockroom boy at the department store. Most of the merchandise was recovered.

WILL REQUEST COMMITTEE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he will recommend creation of an advisory committee on the problems of children to help co-ordinate Welfare Department services. He received a request for such action from the Ohio Committee for the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

DiSalle said an advisory committee of about 30 members would seek to determine the unmet needs for child care, to improve and extend applicable services and to stimulate public interest in such activities.

FOUNDATION FACTS

Make-up needs usually begin with a foundation lotion, to protect from weather and dirt, and to help powder cling. Select one that's tinted only if you need extra color. The skin on the inside of your wrist cues your color need: ivory, pink or olive tone. To apply, dot it lightly over face and neck and blend smoothly together, to form a thin film faded off at the edges. When dry, buff lightly with tissue.

Just as your foundation lotion is basically important for proper make-up application, so proper hair cutting and shaping is necessary for an attractive hair arrangement.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. R. T. HYMAN

How Gallstones Form; Remedies

I have told you a little about bile formation in the liver and about bile flow from the gall bladder in a previous column.

Perhaps you remember that it's manufactured in the liver and flows directly into the intestine during meals, especially if the meal contains a little fat.

Between meals, most of the bile is stored in the gall bladder.

Now your all bladder is tucked away just below the arch of your right ribs. In it, gallstones may form. Many different factors seem to contribute to gallstone formation.

Dr. R. T. Hyman states (cholelithiasis; from chole, meaning bile and lithiasis, meaning stone).

CHOLELITHIASIS is more apt to occur in the female. Pregnancy also favors stone formation. Maybe you remember the old saying that the woman loses a tooth and gains a gallstone with each baby.

Obesity is another contributing factor. Thus, the ideal candidate for gallstone formation is the stout woman who has had many pregnancies.

One of the ways you can prevent stone formation is to keep your weight down, especially during and after pregnancy.

Other factors also contribute to gallstone formation. Cholelithiasis may occur in thin women who've never had a baby. And they're not uncommon in men. Especially middle-aged men who are overweight.

THE INNER LINING of the normal gall bladder is as soft and smooth as a baby's bottom. If, for some reason, it roughens, stones are apt to form. And when a stone forms, for whatever reason, it scrapes the lining thereby favoring more stone formation.

Dear Ann: A rather attractive woman moved in next door. Her husband travels a lot and in the past two weeks, I counted six different cars in her driveway.

Her husband is a very nice person but one of those dumb types. I think someone ought to tell him what goes on when he's not at home.

The neighbor across the street has noticed the men coming and going and she and I agree the husband should be informed.

Our husbands have told us to mind our own business. Men DO stick together and we need the advice of a sharp female. How about it? — A AND C.

Dear A and C: Mind your own business, girls. Even if your silly suspicions added up it's not your responsibility to supervise the neighbor when her husband is out of town. Why don't you two take up needlepoint and use your eyesight in a constructive manner?

Is he honest? Does he keep his word? Does he try to make you jealous by talking about other girls? Is he considerate of your feelings?

bladder before cholecystitis develops.

My opinion? Well, despite my conservative attitude toward most elective surgery, I favor operative removal of stones and a (cholecystectomy) provided that the patient is otherwise well and the service of a competent and experienced surgeon is available. Increasing age and complicating cholecystitis can only add to the discomforts and risks of operation.

The United States has about 1,600 manufacturers of scientific apparatus.

Now while it is true that an occasional stone may disappear as it makes its way out of the bladder with the bile and passes into the intestines, there is no drug or diet that will dissolve gallstones.

What then can you do if you have gallstones? You have only these alternatives:

EITHER KEEP your weight down and hope there will be no further stone formation or complicating inflammation or infection of the sac (cholecystitis) or submit to surgical removal of stones and bladder before cholecystitis develops.

98 POLIO CASES IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ninety-eight cases of polio have been reported in Ohio so far this year, and state health officials say the year's total will probably go over 100. They had hoped that this would be the first year since 1938 in which fewer than 100 cases were reported. James J. Papai of the Ohio Health Department's communicable diseases division said there probably are at least a half-dozen cases which haven't been reported yet.

The 1960 total of 98 reported cases and four deaths so far compares with 242 cases and eight deaths at this point in 1959.

Tri-County Players Are Ready

Comedy Presentation Set For 3-Night Run At Sebring

"The Man Who Came to Dinner," a three-act comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, will be presented by the newly organized Tri-County Players at 8:15 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Strand Theatre in Sebring.

A group of civic-minded young people in the district pooled their resources and purchased the old movie theatre, so that the little theatre group would have a place to present their plays, repair and store their equipment and hold meetings.

Dr. Gene Shafer, a former Salem resident, is one of the leaders of the group. The former Salem Players Club and the Columbiana County Little Theatre group had joined forces with the new Tri-County organization, with several Salem people in the current production.

It is the hope of the group that there will be enough interest in the Tri-County area to keep a full schedule of stage productions going the year around. Dr. Shafer said. He also points out that the Tri-County Players productions in Sebring will actually be a shorter distance for patrons of this area than either the Youngstown or Warren playhouses.

The players have undertaken a gigantic bit of work in less than seven weeks time. Aside from the production itself, with its cast of 36, director, producer, stage manager, technical crews and various committees, there has been the added work of extending and lighting the stage, hanging curtains, building flats for the set along with publicity work. A great deal of this work will not have to be repeated once the stage is fully converted from movie to live presentations.

Members of the cast from Salem include Barbara Tietjen as Lorraine Sheldon; Barbara Shepard as Mrs. Stanley; Walter Taylor as Banjo; Robert Court as Beverly Carlton; Jack Pike as Sandy; and Lloyd Field as Westcott.

Mrs. Robert Rouse of Sebring is ticket chairman. Anyone desiring tickets may obtain them from cast members, at Smith's Jewelry here or by calling to the box office in Sebring at YE 8-2210. Reserved tickets will be held at the box office until 8:05 p.m.

10 Killed In Rightist Revolt In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A rightist revolt broke out in Northern Argentina today shortly after a similar uprising was reported crushed by the government near Buenos Aires.

Reports from Salta in the north said a group of armed civilians occupied oil installations in two towns of Salta Province.

These accounts said the civilians also took over the state oil monopoly in the two towns, Tartagal and Vespucio. Salta is a sugar and oil producing province adjoining the Bolivian and Chilean borders.

Earlier in the day, civilian followers of ousted Dictator Juan D. Peron tried to seize the military barracks in Rosario near this capital, but were routed by troops after four hours of fighting, the government announced.

Unofficial reports said 10 persons were killed and 50 wounded at Rosario. These advices said about 33 civilians were arrested.

There were no estimates of casualties in the outbreak to the north.

The government said the uprising in the north was similar to the one put down at Rosario. This indicated that Peronistas also were involved there.

In both cases, the uprising was staged by armed civilians. Insurgents in the north cut rail way tracks and telephone lines, first reports from Salta said.

The army declared the uprising at Rosario had been crushed.

sweet. He was dealing with a Democrat-dominated Senate and a Republican minority which was willing to let him take responsibility for his own appointments.

The windup of the two-day special session was something of an anti-climax.

The senate had passed an unemployment benefit-extender Monday night shorn of its emergency clause.

Disalle appeared personally before a joint session of the legislature to plead for the bill to extend pre-Christmas benefits to the long-time jobless.

When the House vote came, however, six Democrats deserted the fold. Four Republicans joined 64 Democrats to give the bill a 68-59 edge. But the constitution says a bill can be passed only by a majority of those elected to the House. A majority is 70.

Vote For Extender

These Republicans voted for the benefit extender: Guy Hiner of Canton, Archer Reilly of Columbus, Neil Robinson of Mansfield and Dan O. Taber of Gallipolis.

Democrats who deserted the Disalle bandwagon: Carl V. Ankney, Paulding; Martin W. Feigert, Van Wert; Edward O. Flowers, Akron; John E. Kissner, Defiance; V. J. Kruse, Leesburg, and Raymond C. Motley, Hamilton.

The final legislative action represented a solid victory for the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and the Ohio Manufacturers Association. Both business groups gave fervid opposition to the bill on grounds Ohio's unemployment situation at this time does not justify extension of benefits.

Democratic appeals—even from Disalle—could not budge the Republican opposition. Two years ago, when Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill proposed extension of jobless benefits during a special session, it sailed through both houses. Only one House Democrat opposed it.

Special sessions in the dying days of any legislature are "auld lang syne" affairs.

Black plastic, for instance, draped the desks of Democratic Sen. William Baker of Dayton, Danny Johnson of New Philadelphia and Tom O'Shaughnessy of Columbus.

Atop the black shrouds were wreaths. They were Republican pranks, of course, to give send-offs to three Democrats who were defeated for re-election to the Senate earlier this month. Republicans will recapture Senate control 20-18 on Jan. 2.

A more serious tribute went to Sen. Frank J. Svoboda of Cleveland who is completing 16 years in the legislature—four in the House and 12 in the Senate. The octogenarian retired publisher of Hungarian weekly newspapers will bow out with the advent of a new legislature a month hence.

Another tribute went to Republican Sen. Charles Adams Mosher of Oberlin who vaulted from the Ohio Senate to the U.S. House in the Nov. 8 election.

He also complained that Council had not been kept informed of the progress of negotiations.

"It looks like everything is pretty well settled now," he declared.

Charles Haldi, owner of Haldi's Shoe store, said the negotiations for the lots had run into a number of unforeseen snags.

The Pershing-Penn lot is designed to provide metered stalls for about 100 cars, and the other lot, about 45.

Council last spring issued $90,000 in notes against the general fund for construction of the Pershing-Penn lot.

The other lot is being acquired by Salem Parking, Inc., an organization of local merchants, which will turn it over to the city on a nominal lease basis.

Tank Truck Jumps Curb On N. Lincoln

Police and firemen were called out Tuesday evening when a Standard Oil Co. gasoline tank truck skidded out of control on icy N. Lincoln Ave. at W. 2nd St. and hit an embankment after jumping the curb.

The driver, Edwin K. Winger, 23, of Youngstown, escaped uninjured.

Winger told police the truck, carrying 6,400 gallons of gasoline, skidded as he proceeded south after halting for a red light at the intersection of E. 3rd and N. Lincoln. He said the skid caused the truck to jackknife.

The tanker veered to the east side of N. Lincoln, striking a street marker and mail box situated between the Junior High School and Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The right front fender of the vehicle was knocked loose, coming to a rest alongside the cab, which ended up on the sidewalk.

Firemen were called to the scene when gasoline from a can in one of the compartments sloshed over the road and sidewalk and the engine of the truck began smoking. The fuel was washed away by fire hose.

The incident occurred about 9:43 p.m., shortly after streets had been hit with a momentary blizzard and began to freeze.

fixes the deadline 45 days after the election.

The reports are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and of committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Another candidate and two more committees have filed the reports. Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, elected to a second term on the Republican ticket, reported his campaign cost $434.60.

The Salem Democratic Central Committee reported expenses of $243.37. The form was filed by Lloyd Morrison, treasurer.

Joe W. Driscoll, executive head of the Fairfield-Waterford School District, reported expenses of $42.50 in support of a 3-mill levy. The money was furnished by the parent-teacher organizations of the school district, he reported.

there could not be consumed because of a recent Ohio ruling which states that such units shall be completely fireproof.

He declared the people who would gain most by a zoning change were non-residents who owned property in the area.

Weirick said he opposed the change because, in addition to the reasons given by Horning, the rezoning would produce an increase in traffic which the inadequately constructed streets in that district would not support.

which the state attempted to interpose its sovereignty between the Supreme Court school decision and the people of Louisiana.

Defiance of Authority
The judges said, "the conclusion is clear that interposition is not a constitutional doctrine. If taken seriously, it is illegal defiance of constitutional authority."

Meanwhile, a continuing boycott of two integrated public schools here posed the threat today they may be shut down under a 38-year-old law.

Combined attendance at the two elementary schools Tuesday was eight, including the four Negro first-graders who broke the color barrier Nov. 14. Enrollments before desegregation totaled 1040.

A 1922 Louisiana law says no public school may be kept open with an average attendance of 10 or less.

At the William B. Frantz school angry white mothers jostled with police in an attempt to prevent white children from entering the building, but four white pupils attended classes with a lone Negro girl.

Twenty blocks away the boycott was complete at McDonogh, No. 19. Three Negro girls, escorted by U. S. marshals, were the only pupils.

The school board may decide that any school with attendance of 10 or fewer may be kept open. However, the decision must be approved by state school officials, and Shelby Jackson, Louisiana education superintendent, is a militant segregationist.

The school board and Jackson are under federal court orders not to interfere with integration. Closing of the schools could be interpreted as failure to comply with the directive.

The segregationists continue their drive for funds today to start private schools for students in the lower three grades at the two schools.

They got a boost Tuesday night when members of the legislature contributed more than $6,500 to the private school cooperative fund. The lawmakers were asked to give a day's pay—they get $50 a day for the special session now under way—and all of the legislators chipped in.

PLANS PLANT EXPANSION

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Valley Mould & Iron Corp. plans an expansion of its plant in nearby Hubbard and has purchased a 144-acre tract from the New York Central Railroad for that purpose. W.C.H. Don Davidson Named to Class AA All-Ohio First Team

Salem High's Great End Earns Berth on Defensive Platoon

East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham Selected for Second Team Defense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don Davidson, Salem High's outstanding 185 pound senior end, today was named to the Class AA All-Ohio first team by the hundreds of coaches, newspaper and radio television sports editors, and game officials who voted in the annual ratings.

Davidson, who received honorable mention on the 1959 All-Ohio team, was the only Salem High player named to this year's squad. He was placed on the defensive team.

Quarterback Kenny Cunningham of East Liverpool was named a safety man on the second team defensive unit.

Davidson, who stands 6-5 and is currently tabbed as a strong All-Ohio basketball possibility, was a mainstay on the Salem line for the past two seasons. During his two year varsity career at Salem, the Quakers won 17 games while losing only two.

This was a year of great quar-terbacks in Ohio high school ranks.

Phil Westfall of Springfield South, a pass-tossing wizard, nosed out the other fine signal callers to win the top spot, with Bob Wallace of Alliance making the second team and Middletown's classy Billy Trick the third. Ken Cunningham, East Liverpool's standout, wound up on the de-fensive corps and such stars as Bill Gaines of Dayton Colonel White, Steve Tensi of Cincinnati Elder, and Tom Meyers of Troy were relegated to the honorable men-tion list.

Any of that group would be No. 1 on any college coach's list of wanted men. Westfall has one of

Jimmy Brown, Milt Plum Still Tops On Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown and Milt Plum, the Cleveland Browns' 1-2 ground and air attack, continued to lead the top individual offensive departments in the National Football League today.

Brown has gained 912 yards rushing in nine games for the Browns, who are tied for second place with New York in the Eastern Conference. He has carried the ball 164 times for a 5.6 average.

Plum's accuracy is further demonstrated in three departments: (1) per cent completed, (2) per cent intercepted and (3) average gain.

The former Penn State star has completed 115 of 170 for 1,705 and 13 touchdowns for a 67.6 mark. He has yet to have a pass pilfered and has averaged 10.03 per toss.

McDonald Trounces Farmington, 73-41

McDonald High gave indications Tuesday night that it is a cage power to be reckoned with in the Inter-County League this season as it tuned up against non-loop Farmington and sent the visitors home with a 73-41 pasting.

Eight players broke into the scoring column for McDonald. Veteran Jim Betts led the way with 20 markers. He was followed closely by Charles Patterson who hooped 18 and Larry Carliko, the football whiz, who dumped in 16 markers.

Marks accounted for 20 of Farmington's 41 points.

McDonald rushed off to a 21-9 lead in the first quarter and never was in trouble.

This was McDonald's opening game of the season. Farmington, which does not participate in foot-ball, s got off to an early start in basketball, lost its fourth game in six starts.

McDonald will entertain Jack-son-Milton of the Turnpike Confer-ence on Friday night.

Johansson Could Be Greatest—Schmeling

TORONTO (AP) — Max Schmeling, Germany's former world heavyweight boxing champion, says Ingemar Johansson of Swe-den could be the greatest heavy-weight champion in history if he took the sport seriously.

Schmeling, 55, said in an inter-view Tuesday that Johansson was in perfect condition when he knocked out Floyd Patterson in their first fight. In the second bout, in which Johansson was knocked out he didn't train hard enough, Max said.

Leetonia Could Start Team of Letterwinners

Leetonia High School Basketball Coach Len Batcha reports that the 1960-61 Bear cagers will be a little short on size and depth, but with five returning letterwinners, this is the most experienced club he has had at Leetonia.

Gone from last year's squad which posted a 4-14 record is the team's leading scorer, Lee Radler, as well as Larry Holloway and Terry Tilley.

On the bright side, Coach Batcha could start a team of all letterwinners. That would be co-captain Jim Franko, 5-10, Co-cap-tain Bob Gullett, 5-9, Jim Stelts 6-0, Bob Scullion, 6-0, and Russ Lehman, 6-2. Lehman is a junior. The other four are seniors.

COACH BATCHA says that Franko, Gullett and Lehman, along with 510 sophomore Henry Nemenz, have looked particularly good in practice.

"We feel that our group of soph-omores can give us our needed reserve strength," the Leetonia mentor commented.

Sophomores on the squad, besides Nemenz, who will play var-sity ball are Jay Holloway, 61, Paul Conrad, 5-7 and Jon Holo-way, 5-10.

Roger Burkholder, 5-6 senior, rounds out the varsity roster.

Nemenz, Conrad, and both Holo-way boys will also play reserve ball this season. Other members of the reserve team will be juniors Jeff Hauer, 5-9, and Eric Painter, 5-11; sophomores Frank Guerrier, 5-5 and Steve Vrable, 6-1; and freshmen Phil Campbell, 5-6; George Zepernick, 5-9 and Pete Fraser, 5-6.

Coach Batcha will be assisted this year by Paul Frank, a former Wilmington College basketball player. Tom Troy will serve as student manager.

U.S. Players Lose in Tennis

Italy, Australia Stars Crush Americans

MELBOURNE (AP) — Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola jarred America's Davis Cup hopes today by beating the teen-age pair, Dennis Ralston and Chuck McKinley, in the doubles semifinals of the Victorian tennis championships 5-7, 11-9, 15-13, 6-2.

In the other semifinal, Aus-tralia's Neale Fraser and Roy Em-son, crushed America's Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

The first match was a preview of the Davis Cup interzone finals at Perth, Dec. 9-11.

The turning point apparently came in the second set when Ral-ston's powerful service failed him in the 20th game. After losing only 9 points on 7 previous services, he dropped service without winning a point. The Bakersfield, Calif., lad never was the same after that.

The U.S. Davis Cup captain, Da-vid Freed, said he was disappoint-ed over the result, but was not ready at this time to make a de-cision on the probable Davis Cup pair in the Perth matches.

Wilt Hoops 44 As Warriors Whip Lakers

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Warriors still remained one game behind the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division race today, but they probably can thank a rugged Los Angeles schedule and the flu bug which kept high-scoring Elgin Baylor of the California club on the bench for a big break.

With Baylor out the Warriors edged Los Angeles 122-121 in the first game of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Gar-den Tuesday night.

As usual, Wilt Chamberlain sparked the Philadelphia attack, scoring 44 points.

The Celtics stopped the St. Louis Hawks — Western Division leaders — 119-109 in a doubleheader at St. Louis. It was Boston's eighth straight victory.

The Syracuse Nationals downed the Cincinnati Royals 129-105 in the other half of the St. Louis doubleheader. In the second Gar-den game, the New York Knick-ers rallied in the second half to clip the Detroit Pistons 118-107.

For Los Angeles, it was the eighth game in as many nights and the Lakers managed a 4-4 split.

Cleveland Plays NIBL Opener Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleve-land's National Industrial Basket-ball League team opens its season at the Arena tonight against Bartlesville, Okla., which has beaten Denver but lost to New York and Akron. The league's other team is San Francisco.

Wichita dropped out of this season and its star forward, Dan Swartz, who was rated the NIBL's most valuable player last season, is now with Cleveland. But the Cleveland team lost a big scorer from last season when Johnny Cox transferred to Akron.

Glenn Willis Gets Two Awards

United Booster Club Honors Football Team

Glenn Willis was awarded two trophies last night at the Third Annual United Local Booster Club Football Banquet as more than 150 persons turned out to honor Coach Ray Russell's 1960 football aggregation.

Seven awards were given out by Booster Club President Russell Wood, Sr., with Willis, a junior, linebacker and rugged lineman receiving the Most Valuable and Best Defensive Back trophies. Willis led the team in tackles with 66 in nine games.

Award winners were picked by the Booster Club head coach Russell and his assistants, Mel Klingler and Larry Joseph.

OTHER AWARDS went to Paul DeVille, a four-year man, who received the captain's trophy; senior Alan Knizat was awarded the best offensive lineman title; Don Willis, a junior, received the best defensive lineman award; Dan Jenkins, a senior, received the best offensive back award and junior Charles Lease was named the most improved player.

Coach Russell gave out 25 varsity letters. The letter winners are as follows: equipment managers, Bill Richey and Mike Jewell; trainer, Bill Leatherberry; five seniors, Wade Courtney, Paul DeVille, Dan Jenkins, Alan Knizat and Bob Koerlin; 13 juniors, John Hanna, Roy Hartley, Ronald Hawkins, Charles Lease, John Marks, Larry Marks, Dave Metzger, Kenneth Metzger, Pete Schweigert, Don Smallwood, Jim Sturgeon, Don Willis and Glenn Willis; and four sophomores, John Blanchard, Pat Chestnut, Gary Milliken and Bill Schroyer.

Eight freshman gridders were recognized and will receive numerals.

PHIL SHIPE, head football coach at Wooster College, was the main speaker. Shipe brought along with him a former United griddier, Jim Russell. Russell was named the best defensive lineman last year. Shipe also brought former Salem griddier Tom Dahms. Dahms won the K. of C. Scholarship trophy last year and was a letter-winner on the 1960 Wooster football team.

Shipe gave a humorous talk and told the gathering that "Sportsmanship means nothing if you do not play to win." Shipe also stated that "Win without boasting and lose without excuses."

The Wooster mentor closed his talk by showing movies of Wooster games from the 1960 season. Player representatives, Bob Koerlin and Paul DeVille presented the coaches with gifts expressing the sentiments of the football squad.

Cheerleading adviser, Marilyn Mellinger, introduced the cheerleading squad composed of junior, Rosemary Klemann and sophomores, Kathy Fair, Sandra Leibhart and Ellen Spidel.

Columbiana County School Superintendent James L. McBride was a special guest.

Host Ashland College Cagers

Youngstown Penguins Open Season at Home Thursday

Youngstown University opens its 1960-61 basketball season Thursday, meeting Ashland College at South Field House.

Coach Dom Russell plans to start three veterans and two newcomers against the Mid-Ohio Conference foe. Game time is 8 p.m.; a prelin is slated at 6:15. Starting at the guards will be 5-11 Howie McElroy and 6-2 Bill Wolf. McElroy directs the YU offense and should be the most consistent scorer. Wolf, from Liberty, is in his sophomore year and saw action in seven games a year ago. An excellent outside shooter, Wolf has the knack of getting his shots off quick.

The Penguins rebounding left much to be desired last season and Russell had Charley Day and Jack Tupper to cope with this problem. Both boys are 6-6 and showed signs of ruggedness a year ago. Day will open at center while Tupper will start at one forward. Veteran Bob Chuey, a 6-2 junior from Brownsville, Pa., will hold down the other forward spot. Chuey played in all 25 games a year ago and has an excellent one hand jump from around the key.

Top replacements for the big men are a couple of freshmen from Pennsylvania, Jim Fuqua, 6-3 from New Castle, and Jim Himmelmeyer, 6-4 from Greensburg. Senior Jerry Fitzpatrick and sophos Tony Pero and John Milhalenko figure to see plenty of action at the guard posts.

The Penguins are on the road this weekend, traveling to Athens to meet the powerful Ohio U. Bobcats Saturday night. Youngstown returns home next Thursday to play Lincoln University from Jefferson City, Missouri.

MEET IN BANTAM BOWL PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The South Plainfield (N.J.) Eagles and the Fairport Skippers—both undefeated in nine games—meet Saturday night at Fairport Harbor in the first annual Bantam Bowl football game.

In posting an 8-0-1 record, the Skippers scored 274 points while holding their opponents to only 16. The Eagles, who won the Pop Warner League championship in their state with a 9-0 record, have outscored their opponents 186-61.

Indians May Swap Temple for Antonelli

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The San Francisco Giants, thwarted in their efforts to trade Johnny Antonelli, their one-time pitching ace, to the New York Yankees for catcher Johnny Blanchard, appeared to be close to a deal that would send the veteran left-hander to the Cleveland Indians for infielder Johnny Temple and pitcher Dick Stigman.

Holding up the deal, which would be the first made at the annual meetings, is Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane, widening the scope of the transaction to include Giant outfielder Willie Kirkland or Felipe Alou and Indian outfielder Tito Francona.

Lane acknowledged these names were discussed but declined to reveal the exact nature of the deal.

Along with everybody else, Lane blamed the rule which forbids the trading of 120 American League players who were thrown into the hopper earlier this month to stock the new teams for the lack of deals.

This rule will be in effect until Dec. 13, when the new team, or teams, will select seven players from each established major league club at $75,000 per player.

The interleague trading period, currently in effect, expires Dec. 15. A movement is on foot to extend the trading period.

The only positive action taken Tuesday was the naming of Jim Turner as pitching coach by the Reds and the signing of veteran infielder Danny O'Connell by the Washington team.

Navy's Bellino Wins Heisman Trophy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Personal note to Sen. John F. Kennedy, president-elect and some-time touch football player:

Navy halfback Joe Bellino would like to have lunch with you. He figures it would be the perfect end to an unbelievable football season.

Bellino Tuesday won the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding college football player of 1960, outpolling Minnesota guard Tom Brown, Mississippi quarterback Jake Gibbs and Auburn fullback Ed Dyeas in national balloting.

The day before he had won the Maxwell Trophy, given for the same honor.

He also is making a host of post-season honor teams as a result of scoring 110 point, leading Navy to a 9-1 season record, No. 4 national ranking and an invitation to the Orange Bowl.

The flood of honors has Bellino, son of a Sicilian immigrant from the Boston suburb of Winchester, Mass., in something of a spin. But he said there is just one more thing that would make his season complete.

"I'd like to be invited to have lunch with another Boston resident who also has had a good year — President-elect Kennedy," Bellino told newsmen.

Gotham Bowl Game May Be Canceled

NEW YORK (AP)—It appeared today that the Gotham Bowl mousetrapped itself into believing there were enough good and willing schools to fill out a growing list of postseason bowl games, and, with only 10 days until its scheduled game, is out of prospects.

Because of such a scarcity it looks as if the inaugural game scheduled for Dec. 10 at Yankee Stadium will never come off. Colorado apparently declined to participate and the committee pulled the props out from under Holy Cross' hopes of getting into the game.

The closest thing it had to a team—Oregon State, whose players Tuesday voted to accept such a bid—still did not have the sanction of the school authorities.

Chairman Bob Ready of the selection committee was unavailable for comment.

Holy Cross Athletic Director Gene Flynn said Ready had offered, then withdrawn an invitation "to fulfill other commitments" only 10 minutes before the Crusaders' football team was to vote on the bid.

Then in Boulder, Colo., Colorado Coach Sonny Grandelius admitted talking with Ready by phone several times Tuesday but added: "We're not going to any bowl game this year."

HUNTERS TOOK to the fields

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Working down in Fairfield Township I happened to run across Jess Howell of Columbiana. Jess has been a hunter and a trapper since he was "knee high to a grasshopper," but on account of a physical ailment he has been forced to give up hunting.

At the time he was running his trap line. He opened up the trunk of his car and there he had 21 muskrats that were taken and he had not finished checking all his traps. The unusual thing was one of the rats was coal black; even the feet on the rat were black.

A most beautiful fur. In the same general area he said he had taken three pink muskrats with pink feet and pink noses. The fur had a pinkish glow. To top it off he also caught an albino mink.

MIKE LUTSCH and John Vogelhuber of Westville bagged 32 raccoons the first week of the season. Twenty years ago that was more common than most hunters got in two years.

Duwayne Stone of RD 2, Beloit, and his hunting party captured an albino raccoon. About 15 years ago a party of raccoon hunters from Petersburg in Mahoning County were hunting raccoons when their hounds treed what they thought was the biggest raccoon they had ever seen while hunting in Columbiana County near Beaver Lake.

After they shot it down, it was too big to fit into the hunting coat and not until they took it back to their car and turned on the lights did they realize it was not a coon. It turned out to be a Wolverine.

Two platinum foxes were killed on the highway down near Salineville and a coyote was taken when the late Lon Boring was the Columbiana County game protector. Strange things happen in the hills of Columbiana, but I won't believe we have any bears, panthers nor wildcats until one of these is bagged, contrary to reports. Bears are protected by law as we have a few in southeastern Ohio in some of the state forest reserves.

Top Brass Meet Today

Majors Seek Solution To Expansion Chaos

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's top brass went into an extraordinary council today to try to turn chaos into order.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick met with National League President Warren Giles and American League President Joe Cronin in an attempt to bring some sort of solution to the bitter inter-league feud over ways and means of adding new franchises.

The main problem was how to arrive at a permanent plan to add new franchises, a plan that will permit the two leagues to work together and avoid placing them in the embarrassing situation they now find themselves.

Right now, the American League wants to operate with nine teams and play an interlocking schedule with the National League. The NL has given the idea a cool reception.

Failing that, the AL wants to expand to 10 teams next season, with new franchises in Washington and Los Angeles and the old Washington Senators moving to Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The National League won't buy this either because Los Angeles President Walter O'Malley doesn't want another team in his area next season. Since the rules state that unanimous approval is required for one league to move into territory already occupied by the other, this idea, too, appeared doomed.

If the two leagues can't agree between themselves, Frick said he will break the deadlock by casting his deciding vote for an amendment to the rule requiring unanimous consent that is "fair and equitable."

Browns Favored By 14 Points Over Redskins

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are 14-point favorites to win Sunday over the Washington Redskins, who have just one victory to their credit this season.

However, there are reports that Washington coach Mike Nixon is on his way out unless his team makes a good showing in the last three games, so the Redskins probably will be making an extra effort against the Browns.

After Cleveland, the Redskins (1-4-2) meet the New York Giants and the division leaders, the Philadelphia Eagles. The Browns and Giants, each with a 5-3-1 record, trail Philadelphia.

Coach Paul Brown hopes line-backers Vince Costello and Walt Michaels will be in good shape for the Washington game. Both were hampered by injuries against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Columbiana Rotary Learns About Electronic Computers

COLUMBIANA — Use of electronic computers in a variety of tasks ranging from national defense planning to income tax compilations was discussed by James Renfrew, a sales engineer for International Business Machines, when he appeared as guest speaker for the Rotary Club meeting at Valley Golf Club.

Renfrew, whose official title is given as "applied science representative," said that although the first computer was developed only in 1948, there now are 32 different firms manufacturing some variety of the electronic brains. He told of the immense variety of jobs to which the computers can be adapted, and discussed their effect on present-day business.

The speaker was introduced by Eugene Crawford, program chairman.

Visiting Rotarians were Robert Clauer of Wooster, George T. Smith of Youngstown, and Whitney Ingraham and C. R. Webber of Lisbon. A group of high school seniors at the meeting included Don Williamson, Gary Thompson, Rich Kyser and Clarence Peres.

HECK'S RESTAURANT, winning three games from runnerup J & E Records, padded its lead in action this week in the Monday Night Ladies League. Heck's now is 37-11. J & E and Mellinger's are tied for the next spot with 31-17 records. Miss Helen Eckert rolled a 221 single game for her Union Banking Co. squad to claim individual single game honors.

Indestructible Churchill 86 Years Old

LONDON (AP)—The seemingly indestructible Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 86th birthday today with a 100-pound cake soaked in his favorite brandy.

Habitually a late sleeper, he had the lights on early in his bedroom.

There was good reason—for a parade of well-wishers, postmen, messengers and delivery boys began ringing his doorbell a early as 6:30 a. m.

First to pull up before his London home was a uniformed post-office messenger carrying a heavy load of birthday telegrams, many from the United States.

A member of his household said a greeting from President Eisenhower was among the thousands pouring in from all over the world.

First indications were that this would be a quiet birthday, for Sir Winston is still recuperating from a broken bone in his back suffered in a fall 15 days ago.

But people who know him best said that while his doctors may hope for a quiet day, he'll probably do something outrageously Churchillian before the day is over.

Said one of his friends: "Now take that cake, for instance, it's been soaked with a bottle of brandy and he'll not only cut it but eat some of it."

Brandy is one of Sir Winston's favorite beverages and at his age he still drinks it along with smoking good cigars.

Around the huge and alcoholically fragrant cake, the mail, telegrams and presents piled up.

They included greetings from Queen Elizabeth II, Prime Minister Macmillan, the heads of foreign states and from the humblest in this and other lands.

Buffalo Blasted By Freak Blizzard

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A freak blizzard, hurried by gale-force winds that piled snow up to 3 1/2 feet, virtually halted traffic in and around Buffalo today.

Snowplows sent out Tuesday night to cope with the season's first snowstorm, were hampered by stalled automobiles, trucks and buses.

The State Thruway's Niagara section, which rims the west side of Buffalo, was limited to one-way traffic.

The main section of the Thruway between Lackawanna and Batavia was open, but vehicles moved at a snail's pace in the driving storm.

Police in the town of Amherst, north of Buffalo, reported 18 inches of snow on Route 5 and said that drifts piled snow to 3 1/2-foot depths.

GO ON 4-DAY WEEK

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chase Brass & Copper Co. put 1,470 employees at two Euclid plants on a four-day work week to avoid further layoffs. Nearly 700 workers have been laid off this year, and the company and International Association of Machinists agreed to cut back from five days rather than to lay off additional workers, Joseph F. Kott, IAM representative, said Tuesday.

Hudix Music Restrained By Court Edict

A version of "piracy" against a Cleveland background music corporation was settled in a Youngstown Common Pleas Court yesterday.

Judge John W. Ford granted the motion of the Ohio Music Corporation, 2157 Superior Ave., Cleveland, for a permanent restraining order against the Hudix Music, Inc. of Youngstown, in the Mahoning County court.

Ohio Music had charged the Youngstown firm with piracy of the airwaves, the first such case in Ohio. Ohio Music contended that Hudix Music, whose officers also operate radio station WSOM-FM in Salem, appropriated and sold its background music to outlets of the Kroger and Loblaw grocery chains in the Cleveland area.

William Lemmon, executive vice-president of Ohio Music, which holds the Muzak franchise, explained that the "pirating" was from the company's closed radio circuit or multiplex broadcast in a system through which it piped music to industrial and business firms.

"The action represented the unlawful appropriation of the financial benefit of Muzak's and Ohio Music's years of research, experimentation and expenditures in the development, promotion, advertising, distribution and sales of the background music service."

Ohio Music pipes its background music both through leased telephone lines and through multiplexing. In the latter case, the music is sent out on a specific wave length and becomes usable when the receiving equipment is tuned to this wave length.

Hudix Music, Inc., is controlled by the family of Leo Jerome Dixon, one of nine Clevelanders subpoenaed along with William Preser of the Teamsters Union to testify in 1959 before the Senate McClellan Rackets Committee.

Dixon operated the West Triangle Music Co. here in the late 1940's. He was reported to have transferred his operations to the Youngstown area.

Dixon was listed as a salesman for Hudix Music, whose officers, directors and stockholders include his sons, Leo (Lee) R. Norman Jr., and Donald E., his wife, Anna, and his son-in-law, Norman J. Hughes.

The Dixons are also officers, directors and stockholders in the Salem Broadcasting Co (WSOM-FM).

Salad Mold Tasty With Cold Cooked Shrimp

Highlight your evening with this Shrimp Emerald Echo salad. There's good eating a plenty in this lime-flavored salad mold and enough to serve twelve. Teamed with chilled cooked shrimp marinated in onion dressing this is one dish you can count on to please everyone.

1 package (6 oz.) lime-flavored gelatin; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; 2 cups boiling water; 1 1/2 cups cold water; 3 tablespoons vinegar; 2 teaspoons grated onion; 1 small cucumber, scored with fork and thinly sliced; 4 large slices canned pineapple, quartered; 2-3 cup mayonnaise; 2 cups drained diced canned pineapple; 1/4 cup pimento, cut in 1/4-inch strips; 3 cups cooked or canned shrimp, marinated in onion flavored salad dressing. Or 2 packages (3 oz. each) lime-flavored gelatin.

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add cold water, vinegar, and onion. Pour 3/4 cup mixture into each of two 1 1/2-quart molds.

Chill until slightly thickened.

Then insert cucumber slices and quartered sliced pineapple. Chill until set, but not firm.

Chill remaining gelatin until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with egg beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in mayonnaise, then diced cucumber, diced pineapple, and pimento strips.

Pour over gelatin in molds. Chill and firm. Unmold. Arrange marinated shrimp on crushed ice around salads. Makes 12 to 14 servings.

To make onion dressing: Mix 1/4 cup vinegar and 2 tablespoons water with contents of envelope of onion salad dressing mix. Shake well. Add 2-3 cup salad oil and shake again.

Pink Salt-Water Taffy

Ingredients: 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons corn starch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons vanilla, red food coloring.

Method: In a medium-sized heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add corn syrup, water and butter; mix well. Over moderate heat bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves.

Over the same heat cook without stirring until syrup tests 260 degrees on a candy thermometer or 1/2 teaspoon of the mixture dropped into 1 cup of very cold water can be formed with fingers into a firm or rather hard but pliable ball. Remove from heat; add vanilla and 2 drops of red food coloring; stir gently until blended.

Pour into a buttered pan (9 by 9 by 2, or 12 by 8 by 2 inches); do not scrape last of syrup from pan. Let stand undisturbed until cool enough to handle.

Gather into a ball on pan with fingers and knead a few seconds; pull and twist until taffy is satiny-like and a pale color.

Pull into 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick strands; with kitchen scissors cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Wrap individually in waxed paper; twist ends. Makes almost a pound. Substitute other colors and flavors to suit taste.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Ever add cooked corn kernels to cornmeal muffins? If you use canned corn, drain before adding to the muffin mixture.

You will find turkeys of all sizes, however, you will probably find more larger type turkeys than the smaller. For this reason the larger type turkeys will offer the better buy in most stores. Many stores will feature turkeys as the best buy of the week.

Baked Stuffed Meat Loaf Is Tantalizing

Baked stuffed meat loaf takes just a bit more time and thought than a plain, ordinary meat loaf but, it is really worth the trouble.

It is attractive, good, and very easy to slice and serve. To go with it, you could serve a platter of raw vegetables or a hot vegetable and a cake for dessert.

1 pound potatoes, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 pound veal, chopped, 1 pound pork, chopped, 1/4 cup onion, minced, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon rosemary, 1/4 cup catsup, 1/4 cup quick-cooking rice cereal, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet.

Peel, cook and mash potatoes then add butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, celery salt, and 1 egg beaten. Sprinkle in parsley and whip lightly until smoothly mixed. While potatoes are slightly cooling, place meat in bowl and add remaining ingredients, except fat and kitchen bouquet — mix well.

Then on piece of wax paper pat out evenly to rectangle about 8x12 inches, and spread potato mixture over meat to within 1/2 inch of the edges.

Roll up like jelly roll and place on greased shallow baking dish. Brush with fat and kitchen bouquet which have been blended together and bake in pre-heated 375 degree oven until meat is thoroughly done, about 1 hour. Cut in slices and serve with mushroom sauce.

Mushroom Sauce

1 can (6 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) cream of mushroom soup. Place soup and mushrooms, including broth, in saucepan and bring to a boil. When meat is done place on serving platter and pour off all but 2 tablespoons fat from baking pan—pour in hot mushroom gravy.

Place pan over low heat and stir until all brown drippings are loosened and mixed with gravy. Serve over slices of meat loaf. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Try This For A Chip Dip

We discovered a new appetizer at the home of Norwegian friends in Long Island which would be excellent before the holiday turkey—a combination dip of Norway sardines, cottage cheese, ripe olives, gherkins and mayonnaise.

Sardine-Cheese Dip

One (3 1/2-ounce) can Norway sardines, 1 (8-ounce) container cottage cheese, 6 ripe olives, finely chopped; 6 sweet gherkins, finely chopped; 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, potato chips, radish rosettes (garnish).

Combine the cottage cheese, chopped olives, chopped gherkins and mayonnaise, making a paste. Shape this paste into a mound in the center of a serving tray.

Arrange whole, drained sardines around the sides of the mound and surround with crisp potato chips. Garnish with radish rosettes and watercress.

Our hostess had spent her youth in Stavanger, the main sardine canning center of Norway. She served us a novel version of scrambled eggs for breakfast. Very good!

Scrambled Eggs With Sardines (Yield: 2 servings)

One can (3 1/2-ounce) Norway sardines, 4 eggs, 1 tablespoon tomato catsup, 1 ounce butter, 4 slices toast, buttered, cut in triangles; salt and pepper to taste, parsley (garnish).

Mix eggs, catsup, salt, pepper with an egg beater. In a skillet melt the butter over low flame and scramble the egg mixture, stirring while cooking.

As soon as the eggs begin to set, place drained Norway sardines over the eggs and cook for a few minutes longer (do not stir). Arrange on a serving platter or in a ramekin. Decorate with toast triangles and parsley bouquets. Serve hot.

Know how to prepare kohlrabi? Remove stems, roots and leaves; pare and dice; cook in salted boiling water just until tender. Dress with butter.

Apple Slaw Appetizing In a Cabbage Rose

Though cabbages are king they still can be roses too. For your next party or special meal try making a cabbage rose and filling it with apple slaw. It's not hard to make and it will cause great comment among your guests. You can prepare the "rose" well in advance as well as the apple slaw so that all you do at the last minute is to mix the slaw with the dressing and fill the "rose."

1 medium cabbage, 1 cup shredded carrots, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 2 teaspoons Fruit-Fresh (ascorbic-acid mixture), 4 tablespoons water, 2 redskinned apples (2 cups chopped), 2-3 cup sour cream dressing.

Remove outside leaves of the cabbage. Cut out center with a sharp knife. Place in ice cold water about 1 hour. Drain dry and turn back outer leaves of cabbage to resemble open rose. Shred remaining cabbage. There should be 3 cups. Add carrots and green pepper. 2 teaspoons Fruit-Fresh (ascorbic-acid mixture), 4 tablespoons water, 2 redskinned apples (2 cups chopped), 2-3 cup sour cream dressing.

Holly Berry Cookies, M-m-m-m

Even though we live in the jet age, we still love the old-fashioned custom of homemade cookies for Christmas. Our friends welcome them as gifts, too, and the youngsters in the family look for them almost as excitedly as they wait for Santa Claus.

These holly berry cookies with their unusual shape will make an attractive package for anyone. An easy-to-handle butter base dough is enhanced by flakes of rolled oats.

The dough rolls out after a few hours of chilling; or you can refrigerate it overnight if time does not permit making and baking the same day. Then comes the final "artistic" touch of decorating each "leaf and berry" with gay Christmas frostings and sugars.

Holly Berry Cookies (Makes 3 1/2 dozen)

Three-quarters cup butter or margarine, soft; 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 1/4 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked).

Beat butter until creamy. Add sugar gradually; beat until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla, blending well. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt.

Gradually add to butter mixture. Stir in oats. Chill several hours or overnight. Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees F.).

Roll out dough on lightly floured board or pastry cloth to about 1/4-inch thickness. Make a paper pattern for holly leaf about 4 1/2 inches long.

Use "hole" part from doughnut cutter for berries. Cut out cookies and place on ungreased cookie sheets. Press three circles of dough together to form berry cookies.

Bake in preheated oven (350 degrees F.) about 8 minutes. To decorate, frost holly leaves with pale green confectioners' sugar frosting flavored with peppermint extract. Sprinkle with green colored sugar.

Pipe a border of frosting around cookies using astry tube. Frost berry cookies with red confectioners' sugar frosting flavored with almond extract. Place three red candied cherry pieces on each cookie.

Baked Acorn Squash

(Makes 6 servings)
Three acorn squash, medium-sized; 3 tablespoons softened butter or margarine, 1-3 cup dark corn syrup, salt, pepper, dash nutmeg.

Wash squash. Cut through center, crosswise, and scoop out seed and fiber. Pour about 1 1/2 inches hot water in large kettle, add squash, cover tightly and steam for 20 minutes or until just tender. Remove squash from kettle, invert to drain. Arrange halves in shallow baking dish. Spread each half with 1/2 tablespoon butter or margarine, pour on about 1 tablespoon dark corn syrup and sprinkle with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes or until squash is lightly browned.

Make Fruit Cake Early

Here's a Christmas fruitcake in the modern manner—made with packaged yellow cake mix, apple sauce and sweet cooking chocolate. The day you serve it, top with a sweet chocolate glaze and decorate with almonds, cherries and strips of citron.

Sweet Chocolate Fruitcake

One package yellow cake mix, 1/2 cup applesauce, 4 eggs, un-beaten; 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon orange extract, 2 cups cut-up pitted dates (about 1 pound), 1/2 pound candied green pineapple, cut in narrow strips; 1/2 pound whole red candied cherries, 1 pound (4 cups) coarsely chopped walnuts, 1 package (1/4 pound) sweet cooking chocolate, chopped; 1/4 cup sifted flour.

Line two 8 x 4 x 3-inch loaf pans with triple thickness of waxed paper. Grease well. Empty cake mix into bowl. Add applesauce, eggs, salt and extract.

Beat 3 minutes until smooth and creamy. Combine fruits, nuts and chocolate; mix well with flour. Stir into batter. Pour batter into pans.

Bake in a very slow oven (275 degrees F.) about 2 hours and 35 or 45 minutes, or until cake tester inserted only in cake (not fruit) comes out clean. Cool cakes in pans on cake racks until thoroughly cold.

Tortas Compuestas

(Mexican Sandwich) (Yield: 4 servings)

Cut 4 crusty French rolls in half lengthwise, tear out soft centers and set aside. Drain a 1-pound can red beans and mix with 3 tablespoons of the kidney bean liquid, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper and 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder.

Mix well; heat; then put through a sieve to form a paste. Cool. Spread over the bottom half of the rolls. Cover each with shredded lettuce. Then top with a slice of pork, tongue, ham or turkey, slice of avocado and a green pepper ring. Sprinkle a little French dressing over tops to moisten slightly. Cover each with a half of roll.

Beef and Cheese Buns

Combine 1 pound ground lean beef, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper. Shape into 8 thin patties of uniform size. Place a round of thinly sliced American cheese on each of 4 patties.

Cover with remaining patties, pressing edges together so cheese will not show. Brown each side in about 2 tablespoons hot shortening. Remove patties.

Add 1 cup water, 1/2 cup catsup, 2 tablespoons instant minced onion, 1 1/2 tablespoons green pepper flakes, 1 tablespoon chili powder and 1 teaspoon salt or salt to taste.

Bring to boiling point. Add patties. Cover, lower heat and simmer 10 minutes or until sauce has thickened. Serve in warmed split buns.

Brussels Sprouts

(Yield: 6 servings)

One and one-half pounds to 2 pound (1 quart basket) fresh Brussels sprouts, 1-inch beef stock in saucepan, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon poppy seed, 1/2 teaspoon salt or salt to taste, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper.

Wash Brussels sprouts, remove wilted leaves and soak in 1-quart water and 1 teaspoon salt 20 minutes. Rinse and place in a saucepan with 1-inch beef stock. Bring to boiling point and boil 5 minutes without cover.

Cover and boil 15 minutes or only until crisp-tender. Drain if necessary. Melt butter or margarine in a small saucepan.

Add poppy seed and cook 1 to 2 minutes or only until butter is golden brown. Pour over Brussels sprouts. Add salt and black pepper. Garnish with pimiento. Toss lightly. Serve hot.

Potato Fudge Bars

One-third cup melted margarine, 3 tablespoons cocoa, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, beaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons milk (stir in 1/4 teaspoon vinegar), 1/2 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 cup grated raw Long Island potatoes, 1 cup chopped nuts.

Mix cocoa and sugar, add melted margarine and cream well. Add into above mixture alternately baking soda to sifted flour. Sift with milk. Mix well. Add vanilla. Stir in grated potatoes and nuts. Bake in greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes. Sprinkle confectionery sugar on top. Cut into 1-inch square bars.

On the cinnamon side of life, we think this coffee cake will add to the pleasures of your table, too:

Herbed Cream Sauce

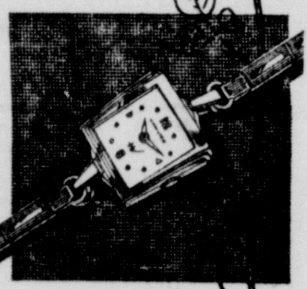

(Yield: 4 servings)

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon ground thyme, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper.

Melt butter or margarine. Blend in flour. Remove from heat and stir in milk. Cook over medium heat until of medium thickness. Stir in seasonings. Pour over vegetables.

Fold cottage cheese into scrambled eggs after the eggs are set and off heat or the cheese will whey.

Chocolate-Vanilla Fruitcake

According to Brillat-Savarin, the great French expert on gastronomy, "the delicious perfume of vanilla" mixed with chocolate is "the utmost in perfection." With that in mind, we suggest the following chocolate-vanilla fruitcake recipe:

Chocolate-Vanilla Fruitcake (Yield: One 9-inch round cake)

Two cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate melted, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans, 1 cup diced glazed lemon peel, 1 cup milk, sugar frosting.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt and set aside to use later. Add pure vanilla extract to shortening and mix well. Gradually blend in sugar. Blend in chocolate. Beat in one egg at a time. Mix 1/4 cup of the flour mixture with nuts and fruit. Stir into the batter. Add remaining flour mixture alternately with milk. Turn into a greased, lightly floured 9x3 1/2-inch tube cake pan. Bake in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees F.) one hour and 10 minutes or until a cake tester or food pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool. Frost with sugar frosting.

Sugar Frosting

Combine 1 1/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 4 teaspoons water and 1/4 teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Mix thoroughly.

Vanilla-Chocolate Fruit Bars (Yield: 24 bars)

Two-thirds cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup shortening, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup chopped candied orange rind, 1 cup chopped lemon peel.

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Set aside. Melt shortening and chocolate together over hot water in to part of double boiler large enough for mixing batter. Stir in sugar and pure vanilla extract. Beat in eggs. Add milk and flour mixture gradually. Blend in nuts, orange and lemon rinds. Spread batter uniformly over the bottom of well-greased lightly floured 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out onto wire rack to finish cooling. Cut into bars. Store in a tightly closed container.

Coffee Egg Nog

Ingredients: 2 eggs, 1 quart milk, 1 cup instant non-fat dry milk (not liquefied), 1/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons powdered instant coffee. Method: Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Add regular milk, dry milk, sugar and coffee; beat to combine. Chill or serve over ice cubes. Makes 4 to 6 servings. Note: Less sugar or more coffee may be added to suit taste.

Potato Pancakes (Serves 8)

Two pounds (6) medium-size potatoes, 1/2 medium-size onion, grated, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 eggs, beaten; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 3 or 4 tablespoons butter, 4 strips crisply cooked bacon.

Wash and peel potatoes. Cover with cold water; drain. Grate at once and drain water that collects on grated potatoes.

Add onion and mx. Add flour, eggs, salt, pepper, nutmeg, and parsley. Mix thoroughly. Heat butter on griddle or in large frying pan.

Place large spoonfuls of potato mixture in hot pan; bake 3 or 4 pancakes at one time until brown and crisp on each side, turning with pancake turner. Place on hot dish. Garnish with crisp bacon. Serve stewed apples with pancakes.

Rump Roast

(Yield: about 10 servings) Four pounds beef rump roast, 2 tablespoons fat, salt, pepper, 1 1/2 cups apple juice, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 teaspoon caraway seeds.

Melt the fat in a kettle. Brown the meat well. Season with salt and pepper. Slip a low rack under the meat. Add the apple juice, nutmeg, cloves and caraway seeds. Cover tightly and cook slowly over low heat for 3 hours or until fork tender. Spoon the flavored apple juice over the slices of meat when served.
